

Local Service Champions Day 17 October

From birth, through childhood, adulthood, old age and even death – local government workers are there, through every stage of life. You provide vital local services but you don't always get the recognition you deserve.

On 17 October that changes, with the first nationwide celebration day for council workers. It's time to celebrate the contribution you make to people's everyday lives. Awards, events, campaigning and cake will be a big part.

Find out
what is happening in your area at [unison.org.uk/
champsday](https://unison.org.uk/champsday)