There are over 10 million disabled people in Great Britain. Cuts to Public Services and Benefits will have a disproportionate impact on disabled people in this country.

Speaking up for disabled members

UNISON supports the Social Model of Disability. We believe it is the way society organises that creates barriers to inclusion and prevents disabled people from taking an equal part in life.

What needs to change

As a union we campaign on important issues such as:

- Inaccessible workplaces
- Information systems that don't include disabled people's access needs
- Negative attitudes and prejudices from employers

Add your voice

UNISON works to make sure the voices of Disabled members are heard. We need as many people as possible to add their voice to our campaign. If you work in public services, join us in UNISON.
