

JOIN UNISON in CRCs

UNISON is the largest trade union in the UK. We offer essential cover for staff working for community rehabilitation companies (CRCs). We protect and represent you at work and campaign for a better future for probation.

We offer a wide range of member benefits and services including support when you need it at work, a helpline open until midnight, access to legal assistance and compensation for accidents and injuries at work.

We negotiate your pay and conditions, represent you in disciplinary and grievance hearings and look after your health and safety at work. UNISON can take up issues your behalf and we champion diversity and equality in the workplace. We also offer a range of training and development opportunities to help you improve your career prospects.

Working for a CRC has its challenges. Probation reform is on-going, and often controversial. Like most employers, CRCs sometimes get things wrong. That's where UNISON comes in.

As an employee of a CRC you could be working with challenging service users and may face allegations about your conduct or performance. Without UNISON, you could be facing this on your own.

Our network of branches, workplace stewards and health and safety representatives work for UNISON members in CRCs. Our reps are CRC staff just like you, so they know how to help.

UNISON has a CRC committee which brings together representatives from across CRCs in England and Wales, so we can co-ordinate our work across the whole of probation.

Campaigning for probation

We care passionately about the future of the probation service because we know what a difference you make to people's lives. We campaign for probation to be properly structured and resourced so you can get the job done.

We talk with employers, politicians, lobby and tell the media about our members' views on how probation should be improved.
