

Remember the dead Fight for the living

On 28 April, International Workers' Memorial Day, we remember those who have died as a result of accidents, injuries or illnesses caused by work.

UNISON is serious about health and safety. We will continue to campaign for improvements and challenge issues that risk threatening the health and safety of our member's.

The government's Retained European Union Law Bill is a huge threat for all workers. The Bill creates a countdown to the expiry of vital protections in the workplace by the end of the year. This could remove vast swathes of health and safety legislation in one fell swoop. Workers and employers rely on these rights day in, day out. As the largest trade union in the U.K, we will do everything we can to stop this bonfire of hard won rights and protections.
