

BRINGING SERVICES HOME

Who runs your service?

Over the years we have witnessed the negative impact of outsourcing on service quality, employment, accountability and investment. No longer should private companies make profits out of public services.

We deserve better.

Support our campaign to bring public services back into public ownership

Bringing public services back into public ownership would mean:

► Better employment terms and conditions for workers

► Better public services that benefit everybody

► Better accountability for service delivery

► Better investment that can go back into making services better

BRINGING
HOME

UNISON's Bringing Services Home campaign will support better services and jobs, and will improve local communities and economies. Public services should be for the public good, not providing a profit for private companies looking to increase their bottom line.
